Housing:

UCD has on-campus accommodations for over 2,500 students in both halls of residence and three, four, five and six bedroom self-catering apartments. These are spread across five locations, with 300 places located on the nearby Blackrock Campus.

Off campus housing is available as well and the UCD Residences Off-Campus Office or the Student Union Accommodation Services can assist. Students should note, that it is always advisable to view private accommodations in advance in order to ascertain that it suits ones needs. The staff of the International Office are available to advise students on the best options to suit ones situation, but do not make reservations on your behalf.

Life in Dublin:

Ireland's capital is Dublin, a cosmopolitan, Georgian city of approximately one million people. As a capital city, Dublin offers a great variety of amenities, including theatres, cinemas and parks. There are train and bus links to cities and towns throughout Ireland including Belfast in Northern Ireland, Galway in the west of Ireland and Cork in the south. There are excellent air links to European capitals from Dublin and flight time to London is approximately 1 hour.
