

American College of Thessaloniki

The American College of Thessaloniki's vision is to be the premier internationally-oriented, English-language college of tertiary education in the Balkan region serving to promote both innovative learning and humanitarian values.

Their mission is to provide a top quality tertiary-level, multidisciplinary, student-centered, education experience in Greece by offering American-style higher education in the areas of business, humanities, social sciences and information technology to a diverse student body originating primarily from Europe and North America with an emphasis on innovative learning that prioritizes critical inquiry, information literacy, and breadth and depth of knowledge of both local and global phenomena. English is the principal language of instruction. The university provides this through its educational, cultural, professional, and service activities, hence projecting the societal responsibilities of the institution and enhancing international understanding and friendship.

Housing:

The American College of Thessaloniki provides off campus accommodation in downtown Thessaloniki. Rooms are all fully furnished (including kitchen appliances in individual studios or in common areas), and priority is given based on the date of application receipt. Both single and double occupancy options exist. Off-campus housing locations are well served by the city's reliable bus system with buses running at 10-15 minute intervals. In addition, during the fall and spring semesters the college provides bus service to and from campus.

Life in Thessaloniki:

Thessaloniki, the largest city in Northern Greece and once a vital seaport, is today a university town, very safe, with a beautiful waterfront promenade looking out towards the Aegean Sea and across to Mount Olympus. A modern city of 1 million in habitants, it features Roman aqueducts and palaces, Byzantine chapels and walls, Venetian towers, modern universities, museums, shops, cafes, restaurants and reliable transportation services. Greece is a land of mythical proportions, where the siren's song draws you into its deep blue waters, where a gentle breeze through ancient ruins seems to whisper your name. Discover the land chosen where St. Paul walked while studying at the American College of Thessaloniki.
